and in its place you can install, a lovely bookshelf on the wall."

The more that you learn, the more places you'll go."

*"The first-rate mind is only happy when it is thinking."
A. A. Milne*

A library is home to wizards & witches, heroes & villains, fact & fiction.
It can be an oasis of calm or a cauldron bubbling with ideas.

It should be a very special place...

The library at Kingarth Street Junior School has served the school for a great many years. However, the time has now come to develop a new library – one that is bright, modern and welcoming, which will fire the imagination and invigorate the minds of young learners.

The Present

Reading for Pleasure

The new library will give pupils the opportunity to fuel their imaginations, in an encouraging and stimulating environment, enriching their school experience and engaging their minds.

Learning for Life

Access to a wealth of information expands the mind and its capabilities. Through regular exposure to the fantastic worlds, characters and events of fact and fiction, pupils' ability to process information increases and will better equip them to face the many challenges presented in life.

Interactive Learning

The new library will give pupils greater access to Information & Communications Technology, aiding online and interactive learning. Provided in a supervised and safe environment, these new ICT facilities will be a tremendous aid to effective teaching and learning, allowing pupils controlled access to the world wide web and the wealth of information it holds.

Social Interaction

We believe that the library will become a hub of social activity at the heart of the School. Pupils of all ages will be able to access the enhanced facility individually, or as part of a class, and interact with each other in a friendly and informal atmosphere.

Our new Library will provide an accessible, exciting, encouraging and creative area which will entice, stimulate and inform our pupils.

But in order to make this a reality we need your support...
